Paz Military Leader Sent To Pick Up 19

Government Troops Will Be Withdrawn Under Settlement

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — Plans moved ahead Sunday night for the release of 4 American and 15 other hostages held by striking tin miners high in the Andes for nine days.

Indications were, however, it would be late in the night or Monday morning before the men are freed and sent on to La Paz.

The hostages are being held in the mining region of Catavi, some 180 miles southeast of La Paz. President Victor Paz Estenssoro sent his military chief, Gen. Alfredo Ovando, to Oruro, 30 miles north of Catavi, to pick up the hostages.

Leftist Vice President Juan Lechin, arch foe of the president and head of the tin miners union, flew to Oruro later in the day. Lechin was accompanied by U.S. Ambassador Douglas Henderson and the Archbishop of La Paz, Msgr. Abel Antezana, who has been acting as mediator.

Paz Estenssoro said Gen. Ovando also was under orders to withdraw government troops from the Oruro area.

The hostages were seized Dec. 6 in retaliation for the government's arrest of two Red Union leaders.

A dispatch sent by the miners to Lechin asking him to come to Catavi indicated Lechin's agreement with the government to release the hostages had not been well received everywhere in the mining area.

Earlier, Lechin said he had received a radio message from eight union officials in Catavi that the terms for the release of the hostages had been accepted by the miners.

Lechine and Paz, formerly allies but now political competitors, worked out a settlement of the crisis Saturday night. Lechin agreed to order the release of the hostages if the government would release on bond union leaders Irineo Pimental and Federico Escobar pending trial in Catavi, rather than in La Paz. The government also agreed to withdraw troops it had sent to the miner areas after the hostages were taken.

Stevenson Hits U.N. Fund Slash

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson assailed the House Appropriations Committee on Sunday for slashing from $136 million to $100 million U.S. funds earmarked for voluntary contributions to special U.N. programs that help children, refugees and struggling young countries.

The chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations declared in a 250-word statement that the committee, headed by Rep. Otto Passman, D-La., "applied the meat ax across the board" to those U.S. contributions.

He said the U.N. programs and U.S. prestige would suffer "if this shocking action is not reversed." He expressed disbelief that Congress would go along with the committee's recommendations.

The U.N. voluntary funds are part of a pending foreign aid appropriations bill. The committee cut the total in the bill Saturday to $2.8 billion—$1.7 billion less than President John F. Kennedy originally asked for.

KILLED BY CAR — Mike Schaffer (above), 19, City College of New York basketball star, met violent death on a New York street early yesterday. Irate Motorist Runs Into, Kills CCNY Cage Star

NEW YORK (AP) — Fresh from leading City College to victory, a basketball star met violent death on a street Sunday. Police say a laborer deliberately drove his car into several collegians after a scuffle.

All were able to jump to safety, except Mike Schaffer, 19, of the Bronx, who was struck by the car and dragged a block. He died shortly afterwards in a hospital.

Some in the group of college boys and girls told police they knew the driver of the car and 4½ hours later Eddie Weissman, 19, of Manhattan was arrested at his home. He was charged with homicide.

Police said Weissman apparently did not know Schaffer and he denied trying to hit anyone with his car. They said a remark he apparently made to one of the girls led to the scuffle.

Schaffer's team won its fourth straight game Saturday night, beating Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, 74-44. Schaffer was high scorer with 18 points. Last season, as a freshman, he averaged 20 points.

Police said that after the game Schaffer and seven others left the gymnasium on the college's Manhattan campus. They had walked five blocks when they encountered Weissman.

He was sitting in his car, which was double parked. He made some remarks to one of the girls in the group. The boys took offense. Weissman got out of his car and there was a brief scuffle in the street.

Weissman then jumped back into his car, gunned the motor and raced at the collegians.

Rail Strike Called

ROME (AP) — Communist-led railway unions Sunday scheduled a 24-hour strike, starting at 8 p.m. Thursday, on the Italian state railways. This hits the rail network at the start of the Christmas rush.

Everything was fine until a crowd of hungry actors trooped in and fists began to fly.

Having just performed at the opening of Nottingham's new million-dollar playhouse, the actors raced across to the celebration party in City Hall to eat. But they found the food and drink nearly all gone, most of it consumed by those who had just watched their performance.

Protests were aired. Soon a fist-swinging brawl was in progress on a marble staircase outside the mayor's parlor.

"It was," said a city official, "most embarrassing for Lord Snowdon."

The theatrical party included actors Peter Ustinov and John Neville, producer Sir Tyrone Guthrie and director Frank Dunlop. They were late arriving at the party because the actors had to change and they waited for stage hands, who had to tidy up.

Flood Scene Reminiscent Of Battlefield

Resident Returns To Find Even His Lot Washed Away

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "When you're burned out, at least you have your lot left. You can rebuild."

"But what can we do? We don't have even that," moaned R.C. Elliott, an advertising executive as he stared at the huge hole in the ground where his luxurious house had stood until Saturday.

Elliott and his wife were poking around the muddy hole where their Baldwin Hills hillside home had stood. It was swept away in a floodtide from the burst dam.

Sunday, they were among the first residents admitted to the disaster area where 16,500 people had lived.

Like Pocked Battlefield The scene was reminiscent of a bomb-pocked battlefield—craters where homes had stood; pipes, poles and trees protruding like stiff spaghetti.

Portions of the four-square-mile area appeared totally destroyed. In others, lawns appeared unharmed where houses had been wrested from foundations. In a few places, lawns were torn out; homes little harmed.

Elliott and his wife did not sleep all night.

"We just had to come back and see it," said Mrs. Elliott of the rubble, mud and gaping holes.

"I'm more upset now than in the beginning," interjected Elliott. "This never should have happened. It's ridiculous."

"I've had some concern about the dam. I told my wife long ago that if it ever broke then we've had it. You can't hold water in a thing like that with just earth."

Insurance Excludes Floods "If they'd got in here early, with some divers when the hole was small, maybe they could have done something," he said angrily.

"Why, it was three hours after it started leaking before one of police car even came up here and told us to evacuate. I don't know why they didn't do anything faster."

There was no quick comment from any official source.

Elliott sees little hope for rebuilding.

"Our broker said probably no one up here will collect on insurance. Floods are excluded. And what could you do anyway? We don't even have a lot left."

Rep. Celler Predicts Rights Bill Adoption

WASHINGTON (AP)—A liberal effort to force the civil rights bill to the House floor for a vote will succeed if the Rules Committee does not clear the measure next month, Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., said Sunday.

If the committee doesn't act, Celler said, he expects to be able to bring the measure to the House floor by Jan. 23 under a discharge petition.

And with the help of President Johnson, "I'm quite confident that a civil rights bill will pass both houses," Celler said on Radio Press International's "From the People."

American Slain, Three Missing In S. Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist guerrillas killed a U.S. officer in a jungle battle Sunday and three other Americans were missing after their helicopter crashed into the sea Saturday night while on a rescue mission in a Red-infested area.

The helicopter's copilot swam ashore and was rescued by government troops Sunday morning after spending the night hiding in bushes.

He said he saw the other three Americans scrambling out of the craft and swimming toward shore. Troops scoured beaches in Quang Ngai Province in central Viet Nam after villagers reported seeing several Europeans in the area.

None of the Americans was identified immediately.

The two incidents capped one of the bloodiest weeks for American forces since they came to South Viet Nam two years ago to help the South Vietnamese government fight the Communist Viet Cong guerrillas. A U.S. helicopter and a small plane crashed Thursday, killing eight Americans.

The latest fatality brought to 85 the number of Americans killed in action against the Viet Cong. Sixty other Americans have died of war-related causes.

Tot Dies 12 Hours After Massage Restarts Heart

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A 14-month-old boy who had swallowed a small Christmas toy died Sunday 12 hours after two medical students had performed a successful heart massage.

The boy, Patrick McBride of Oreland, Pa., had choked on a small metal whistle from a toy rubber Santa Claus. His heart had stopped when he was brought to Chestnut Hill Hospital Saturday night.

Samuel Amuso and Charles Gnau, students at Jefferson Medical College, performed closed chest heart massage for 45 minutes while Dr. Edward McLaughlin, chief surgical resident, gave mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. A heart beat was restored.

Sinatra Kidnapers In Amateur League

Nearly All Ransom Money Recovered

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Who old John William Irwin, a tight end, are the three men accused of kidnapping Frank Sinatra Jr.? A house painter, an abalone fisherman and a stockbroker's son; hardly the sort of people you'd enlist as confederates if listed man and professional boxer arrested several times for petty offenses and married only a month ago.

Yet authorities say these three, all minor leaguers in crime until now, are the ones who spirited the 19-year-old singer from a mountain lake resort, released him for $240,000 ransom and landed in jail, all obsession for money.

Friends were astonished, relatives shocked when the FBI dramatically broke its long silence on the case Saturday, announcing that the three men had been arrested, and that nearly all the ransom money had been recovered and that no other suspects were being sought.

Keenan and Amsler were classmates at University High School in West Los Angeles. Curiously, Nancy Sinatra, sister of the kidnapped boy and now wife of Tommy Sands, was in the same class. She and Keenan were graduated in 1958 but Amsler left school to join the Navy.

Others who were in the same class say Keenan and Amsler were good friends. Eugene Gierston, now a medical student, says Keenan knew Nancy "better than most people in the school."

Sinatra Sr. said Saturday that his daughter viewed photos of Keenan but didn't recognize him.

Keenan's ex-wife, Donna, obtained an interlocutory divorce decree Nov. 12.

"I now feel real happiness under the warm care of the government and people here," the radio quoted Parrish as saying. "They are the kindest people I have ever met, and I am now promised a bright future."

(In Smith Mills, Ky., Parrish's mother, Mrs. Virginia Craddock, said she does not believe he has defected. "Nothing that anybody can tell me will make me believe that he's gone over to the Communists," she said.)

The radio said Parrish thought about leaving the Army, but was afraid he could not find a job. It quoted him as saying that he had heard that everybody in North Korea was employed.

Four Children Perish In Rural Home Blaze

JASPER, Ark. (UPI) — Four children were killed, their father was seriously burned and another child was hospitalized with minor burns Sunday when fire destroyed their rural home east of here.

The daybreak fire at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ammon N. Howard was in the sparsely populated northeast section of Newton County. Firemen and county sheriff's officers were not immediately able to determine its cause.

Latin America Goals Outlined By President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said Sunday night he is determined to achieve "an American community of nations moving forward together in progress and freedom."

The President sketched in broad terms his views on policy toward Latin America in a letter to Thomas C. Mann, Johnson selected Mann Saturday to be the new assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, and apparently is upgrading this position.

Mann, now ambassador to Mexico, will replace Edwin M. Martin who the White House said is to be given a major ambassadorial assignment in Latin America.

The President conferred with Mann Sunday. Officials said Johnson told Mann he wants him to take the best parts of the neighbor policy laid down by the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt and the Alliance for Progress launched by the late President John F. Kennedy, and use them as a guideline for plans to eliminate poverty, illiteracy and disease from the Western Hemisphere.

Officials said Saturday that Mann will be in charge of all political, economic and military aspects of U.S. policy on Latin America.

In his letter Sunday, Johnson omitted any reference to the military, and there was no explanation of why.

Chou, Nasser Confer

CAIRO (UPI) — Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai Sunday night conferred with United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser in the first formal talks of Chou's two-month trip through Africa to rally support for the Peking regime.

Chou was swept into an excavation at Rodeo Rd. and La Cienega Blvd. Her sister, Mrs. Bertha Baker, 75, was pulled from the car by Police Sgt. V. T. Moon. He suffered cuts and bruises trying futilely to reach Mrs. Schwartz before flood waters.

Four Carnival Workers Sought In Brutal Slaying

Culpepper lying in the bottom of a 25-foot well near a church. Leonard was dead when pulled out of the cold water well. Mrs. Erline Culpepper was rushed to a hospital in critical condition. She underwent surgery Saturday. A hospital spokesman gave her a "50-50" chance of survival after living atop her 55-year old husband's body for 2 hours in the well.

The alert for the "very dangerous" men identified them as Clarence Cecil Coon, 21; John Lucas, 19; Gerald Eaton and Dennis Woods, 17.

Sumter County Sheriff W. A. Bratton said the men might be headed towards Florida in a car with an Alabama license plate. He said the men were believed to have license tags in their possession from Oklahoma, Louisiana and Texas.

259 Buildings Swept Away Or Damaged

15 Injured, Loss Over $10 Million In Disaster At LA

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Disaster officials counted 259 homes and apartment buildings destroyed or damaged Saturday by the bursting of a mid-city dam and said it was a miracle no more than three lives were lost.

Cause of the break which spewed mud and water over a four-square-mile area of 9,000 homes with 16,500 residents remained a mystery but early investigation pointed to two likely causes:

A recent series of minor earth quakes and the possible collapse of subterranean oil pools pumped dry by wells near the scene.

Throughout the day Sunday thousands of evacuees queued up in block-long lines at police control points to return to a scene of almost incredible devastation:

15 Persons Injured A terraced hillside below a reservoir high in the Baldwin Hills was swept clean of homes—some costing up to $100,000—as if by a giant mop. A wall of water 30 feet high and 100 feet across roared down the canyon, tumbling houses and cars like toys caught up in a child's tantrum.

Only the fact that police had more than a hour to try to evacuate the area below the reservoir kept the death toll from rising much higher.

Even so, 15 persons who did not get out in time were injured. Those who came back grimaced to poke in the debris described the long night hours of waiting for rescue as a scene out of hell, made more hellish by the red glow of emergency lights and the criss-crossing beams of helicopters looking for victims.

Dozens spent hours in the dark perched on rooftops, too weary to descend after the flood waters receded.

Official Count An official count showed: Dead—3. Injured—15. Homes destroyed—64. Homes with major damage—64. Homes with minor damage—35. Apartment buildings with major damage—55. Apartment buildings with minor damage—41. Total damage estimate — $10 million.

Police identified the dead as Mrs. Hattie Schwarz, 73, Maurice Clifton Carroll, 60, and Arch Young, 58. All were residents of a 650-unit apartment development on low ground below the ruptured reservoir.

Young's wife was one of the injured. She was washed out of a second story window at the height of the flood.

Young, downstairs at the time was swept three quarters of a mile away. His body was found in a pile of mud and debris at Jefferson Blvd. and Higuera Rd.

Mrs. Schwartz died when her car was swept into an excavation at Rodeo Rd. and La Cienega Blvd. Her sister, Mrs. Bertha Baker, 75, was pulled from the car by Police Sgt. V. T. Moon. He suffered cuts and bruises trying futilely to reach Mrs. Schwartz before flood waters.

Paz Military Leader Sent To Pick Up 19

Government Troops Will Be Withdrawn Under Settlement

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — Plans moved ahead Sunday night for the release of 4 American and 15 other hostages held by striking tin miners high in the Andes for nine days.

Indications were, however, it would be late in the night or Monday morning before the men are freed and sent on to La Paz.

The hostages are being held in the mining region of Catavi, some 180 miles southeast of La Paz. President Victor Paz Estenssoro sent his military chief, Gen. Alfredo Ovando, to Oruro, 30 miles north of Catavi, to pick up the hostages.

Leftist Vice President Juan Lechin, arch foe of the president and head of the tin miners union, flew to Oruro later in the day. Lechin was accompanied by U.S. Ambassador Douglas Henderson and the Archbishop of La Paz, Msgr. Abel Antezana, who has been acting as mediator.

Paz Estenssoro said Gen. Ovando also was under orders to withdraw government troops from the Oruro area.

The hostages were seized Dec. 6 in retaliation for the government's arrest of two Red Union leaders.

A dispatch sent by the miners to Lechin asking him to come to Catavi indicated Lechin's agreement with the government to release the hostages had not been well received everywhere in the mining area.

Earlier, Lechin said he had received a radio message from eight union officials in Catavi that the terms for the release of the hostages had been accepted by the miners.

Lechine and Paz, formerly allies but now political competitors, worked out a settlement of the crisis Saturday night. Lechin agreed to order the release of the hostages if the government would release on bond union leaders Irineo Pimental and Federico Escobar pending trial in Catavi, rather than in La Paz. The government also agreed to withdraw troops it had sent to the miner areas after the hostages were taken.

Stevenson Hits U.N. Fund Slash

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson assailed the House Appropriations Committee on Sunday for slashing from $136 million to $100 million U.S. funds earmarked for voluntary contributions to special U.N. programs that help children, refugees and struggling young countries.

The chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations declared in a 250-word statement that the committee, headed by Rep. Otto Passman, D-La., "applied the meat ax across the board" to those U.S. contributions.

He said the U.N. programs and U.S. prestige would suffer "if this shocking action is not reversed." He expressed disbelief that Congress would go along with the committee's recommendations.

The U.N. voluntary funds are part of a pending foreign aid appropriations bill. The committee cut the total in the bill Saturday to $2.8 billion—$1.7 billion less than President John F. Kennedy originally asked for.

Nearly All Ransom Money Recovered

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Who old John William Irwin, a tight-lipped man with an unspectacular record of arrests dating back to 1916, is the man who kidnaped Frank Sinatra Jr.?

A house painter and a stockbroker's son, the fisherman is Joseph Clyde Amsler, 23, a former Navy enlistee, hardly the sort of people you'd enlist as confederates if you were going to pull the most celebrated abduction in a general's month ago.

Yet authorities say these three, all minor leaguers in crime until now, are the ones who spirited the 19-year-old singer from a mountain lake resort, released him for $240,000 ransom and landed in jail, all in the space of 126 hours, 45 minutes.

The house painter is 42-year-old Joseph Clyde Amsler.

Korea Reds Say GI Joined Them To Obtain Job

TOKYO (UPI) — An American soldier defected to North Korea because he heard that everyone in the Communist nation had a job, Radio Pyongyang said Sunday.

The official voice of the North Korean government identified the GI as Jerry Wayne Parrish of Morganfield, Ky., assigned to the 1st Cavalry Division along the truce line between North and South Korea.

A broadcast heard here said Parrish crossed into North Korea on Dec. 6 while on patrol duty.

"I now feel real happiness under the warm care of the government and people here," the radio quoted Parrish as saying. "They are the kindest people I have ever met, and I am now promised a bright future."

(In Smith Mills, Ky., Parrish's mother, Mrs. Virginia Craddock, said she does not believe he has defected. "Nothing anybody can tell me will make me believe that he's gone over to the Communists," she said.)

The radio said Parrish thought about leaving the Army, but was afraid he could not find a job. It quoted him as saying that he had heard that everybody in North Korea was employed.

Four Carnival Workers Sought In Brutal Slaying

YORK, Ala. (UPI) — The FBI Sunday joined the widening search for four "armed and dangerous" carnival workers charged with killing a man, critically injuring his wife and throwing the couple into a deep well.

Warrants issued Sunday charged the still-at-large suspects with murder, assault with intent to murder, robbery and burglary. The FBI said a warrant for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution would be issued.

The attack occurred Friday night when the couple apparently was caught by the four men ransacking their house, officers said.

The robbery-murder was not discovered until Saturday when a Negro woman found the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard

259 Buildings Swept Away Or Damaged

15 Injured, Loss Over $10 Million In Disaster At LA

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Disaster officials counted 259 homes and apartment buildings destroyed or damaged Saturday by the bursting of a mid-city dam and said it was a miracle no more than three lives were lost.

Cause of the break which spewed mud and water over a four-square-mile area of 9,000 homes with 16,500 residents remained a mystery but early investigation pointed to two likely causes:

A recent series of minor earthquakes and the possible collapse of subterranean oil pools pumped dry by wells near the scene.

Throughout the day Sunday thousands of evacuees queued up in block-long lines at police control points to return to a scene of almost incredible devastation:

15 Persons Injured

A terraced hillside below a reservoir high in the Baldwin Hills was swept clean of homes—some costing up to $100,000—as if by a giant mop. A wall of water 30 feet high and 100 feet across roared down the canyon, tumbling houses and cars like toys caught up in a child's tantrum.

Only the fact that police had more than a hour to try to evacuate the area below the reservoir kept the death toll from rising much higher.

Even so, 15 persons who did not get out in time were injured. Those who came back grimaced to poke in the debris described the long night hours of waiting for rescue as a scene out of hell, made more hellish by the red glow of emergency lights and the criss-crossing beams of helicopters looking for victims.

Dozens spent hours in the dark perched on rooftops, too weary to descend after the flood waters receded.

Official Count

An official count showed: Dead—3. Injured—15. Homes destroyed—64. Homes with major damage—64. Homes with minor damage—35. Apartment buildings with major damage—35. Apartment buildings with minor damage—41. Total damage estimate—$10 million.

Police identified the dead as Mrs. Hattie Schwarz, 73, Maurice Clifton Carroll, 60, and Arch Young, 58. All were residents of a 650-unit apartment development on low ground below the ruptured reservoir.

Young's wife was one of the injured. She was washed out of a second story window at the height of the flood.

Young, downstairs at the time was swept three quarters of a mile away. His body was found in a pile of mud and debris at Jefferson Blvd. and Figueroa Rd.

Mrs. Schwartz died when her car was swept into an excavation at Rodeo Rd. and La Cienega Blvd. Her sister, Mrs. Bertha Baker, 75, was pulled from the car by Police Sgt. V. T. Moon. He suffered cuts and bruises trying futilely to reach Mrs. Schwartz before flood waters.

Record Frigid Wave Maintains Grip On Plains

By United Press International

A record-breaking cold wave continued to show no mercy over the plains Sunday where the mercury slumped to 30 below at Bismarck, N.D.

The cold Canadian air spilled as far south as the Gulf coast, but spared most of Florida.

The 30 below reading at Bismarck was the coldest there for Dec. 15 since a minus 25 was recorded in 1919. It was 29 below at Williston, N.D., and Philip, S. D., and 25 below at Dickinson, N. D.

Other frigid temperatures included 13 below at Mason City, Iowa; 17 below at Valentine and Ainsworth in Nebraska; 11 below at Rapid City, S. C., and 10 below at Omaha, Neb.

A hard freeze set in deep in the heart of Dixie where Atlanta, Ga., had a reading of 18 above and Fort Worth, Tex., and Jackson, Miss., 19. It was 13 at Little Rock, Ark., 19 at Raleigh, N.C., and 23 at Shreveport, La.

By contrast the overnight low at Miami Beach, Fla., was a warm 70 degrees.

Top Demos Urge House To Rescue Aid Program

WASHINGTON (UPI) —High administration and other Democratic leaders, appealed urgently to Congress Sunday to rescue the severely slashed foreign aid program in the national interest.

On the eve of House action on the bill to finance another year of economic, technical and military assistance abroad, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said "Congress will have struck a blow more dangerous than the Communists" if it does not restore the aid funds.

At the United Nations, Ambassador Adlai Stevenson denounced what he called arbitrary, "meat axe" cuts in the bill at the hands of the House Appropriations Committee which Saturday approved only $2.8 billion in aid funds.

Stevenson said he favors economy, "but not at the expense of the policy, prestige and interests of the United States in world affairs."

Immediately after the committee voted, President Johnson himself charged that the reduction would "put our foreign policy in a strait jacket." The administration had originally asked $4.9 billion for foreign aid this year. The deepest previous cut was in 1957, when only $2.7 billion was appropriated.

Humphrey, assistant Senate Democratic leader, urged his colleagues to restore funds requested by the President as their responsibility. He said the House committee's action weakens the Peace Corps, "literally stabs in the back" the Alliance for Progress, denies the United Nations the money it needs, and "weakens the whole structure of American foreign policy."

2 Pedestrians Killed By Cars

By The Associated Press

Two pedestrian deaths over the weekend brought Maryland's 1963 traffic fatality count to 556, compared with 565 last year.

Lafayette Carbaries, 53, of Quantico, Md., was killed Sunday morning when he was struck by a car on Maryland 349, about five miles west of Salisbury.

Mrs. Gladys Gross of Shadyside, 65, was fatally injured Saturday when she was struck and dragged by a car 189 feet on Maryland 468.

Anne Arundel County police said the driver of the car was identified as Donald H. Holland, 49, also of Shadyside, and was apprehended several miles away by Octif Turner Jr., 32, and his brother, Sterling, 18, who had witnessed the accident.

Five Scientists Will Get Medals

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson announced Sunday that five scientists, including Dr. Vannevar Bush, will receive the 1963 National Medal of Science.

The presentations will be made at a White House ceremony next month.

In addition to Bush, a prominent engineer, scientist and administrator, the medal recipients are:

Luis W. Alvarez, associate director of the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory, Livermore, Calif.; John R. Pierce, executive director of the Bell Telephone Laboratories, Murray Hill, N.J.; Dr. Cornelius B. Van Niel of the Hopkins Marine Station of Stanford University, Palo Alto, Calif.; and Norbert Wiener, professor emeritus of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston.

Dinah Washington Will Be Buried Wednesday In Chicago

Miss Washington, 39, died Saturday of an apparent overdose of pills.

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a 16-year-old girl who has the nuttiest family anybody ever heard of. My mother's mother is only 18 years older than my mother. Grandma had a baby boy two years after I was born. This means that my uncle is 14 years old.

Uncle Harvey is a mean little squirt and he has always been very smart for his age. This fall he entered the same high school I go to and it is really embarrassing. Harvey goes around telling everybody that he is my uncle and I could just die.

To make matters worse, my mother says I have to call him Uncle Harvey no matter how old he is, because he is my uncle and nothing is going to change that. Tell me what you think about this, Ann Landers. If ever I need a friend on my side I do now. Please help me. — FRAZZLED FRAN

DEAR FRAZZLED: What you really need, Toots, is a sense of humor. I can't imagine anything funnier than calling this little squirt "Uncle" — and you should do so at every opportunity. When you figure that life has handed you a lemon — make lemonade.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I notice that you sometimes print worthwhile contributions from your readers. I ran across something which I think has a great deal of merit. If you agree, will you print it, please? — AVID ANN FAN

Prayer For Older People
Lord, Thou knowest that I am growing older.

Keep me from becoming talkative and possessed with the idea that I must express myself on every subject.

Release me from the craving to straighten out everybody's life. Keep my mind free from the recital of endless detail. Give me wings to get to the point and then be quiet.

Seal my lips when I am inclined to tell of my aches and pains. They are increasing with the years and my love to speak of them grows sweeter as time goes by.

Make me thoughtful but not nosy — helpful but not bossy. With my vast store of wisdom and experience it does seem a pity not to use it all, but Thou knowest, Lord, that I want a few friends at the end.

DEAR AVID: Thanks for passing along some advice. Now, if you'll send me the name of the author I'll print that, too.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My brother and his wife live across the street from us. They are a nice couple, but Joyce (not her real name) is the world's worst housekeeper. She never has a soft drink in the refrigerator, or a cracker or a jar of cheese spread. Whenever guests drop in (which is quite often) Joyce and her husband bring them straight over to our house. Then I have to whip up a little snack and suddenly their guests become our guests.

As Joyce leaves she always takes me to the side and whispers, "You saved my life. I didn't have a thing in the house to give them. I don't know what I'd do without you."

Both my husband and I are fed to the teeth on this routine. Often we have plans of our own which are ruined because these two drop in with their company. Please tell me what to do.—PIG-EON

DEAR PIDGE: The very next time the free-loaders appear at your door say, "I'm so sorry, we were just leaving." Then leave—even if it's only to the drug store to buy a tube of toothpaste. If you do this three times you won't have to do it a fourth.

housekeeper. She never has a soft drink in the refrigerator, or a cracker or a jar of cheese spread. Whenever guests drop in (which is quite often) Joyce and her husband bring them straight over to our house. Then I have to whip up a little snack and suddenly their guests become our guests.

As Joyce leaves she always takes me to the side and whispers, "You saved my life. I didn't have a thing in the house to give them. I don't know what I'd do without you."

Both my husband and I are fed to the teeth on this routine. Often we have plans of our own which are ruined because these two drop in with their company. Please tell me what to do.—PIG-EON

DEAR PIDGE: The very next time the free-loaders appear at your door say, "I'm so sorry, we were just leaving." Then leave—even if it's only to the drug store to buy a tube of toothpaste. If you do this three times you won't have to do it a fourth.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Easy Entertaining? — Buffet Or Brunch

Why let holiday hustle call a halt to hospitality? The simplest (and most successful) parties are the kind that can be planned quickly and require the minimum in elaborate preparations. The best examples I can suggest are the cocktail buffet or the informal brunch—and there's still plenty of time for you to make arrangements for one or the other.

You may even decide to give both kinds of party, if the invitation list to one grows too long and unwieldy.

Just make up your mind and choose a date. Then, before this week is over, make up your guest roster and phone or mail your invitations.

You needn't fret about whether date and time are "convenient" for everyone you'd like to come. Because they probably will be, thanks to the nature of the parties. A cocktail party, given between 5 and 7 or 6 and 8 in the evening, fits in with most social schedules, so it is sure to attract even those guests with earlier or later engagements.

The brunch holds even more appeal because it is ordinarily set during the off-hours in the social season—Saturday noon or Sunday after church. Most people appreciate being spared partygoing conflicts and late hours (just as you do) during a period traditionally crammed with too much of both.

For the cocktail party from 5 until 7, at which you'll serve only finger foods for nibbling, no R.S.V.P.s are necessary. Invite enough friends to make a congenial crowd, but not a crush. As I warned you, most of your guests will accept . . . and may happen to arrive at the same minute.

Specifying cocktail buffet on your bids to a party given between 6 and 8 indicates that more substantial food will be served . . . so replies are more important. Replies are also musts for brunch bids.

That word "substantial" won't frighten you if you remember that simplicity and informality should be the keynote for the holiday hospitality you offer, especially if your time and budget are limited and you have no outside help. Courses can be few, as long as amounts are ample. Best bets are foods you can prepare in advance without a lot of fuss . . . and that guests can manage comfortably with self-service.

NATO And Trade With The East

Nuclear strategy is bound to dominate the discussions at the three-day ministerial meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Council which opens in Paris today. But a tangential issue is expected to be almost as important and equally vexing.

U. S. Under Secretary of State George Ball on November 18 asked a special Council meeting to adopt a common policy on trade with Communist countries. He was less against trade itself than against the granting of long-term credits. These are considered credits extending longer than five years.

Chancellor Ludwig Erhard of West Germany was quoted as saying in that morning's Figaro: "I consider that we should not reinforce the power of the U.S.S.R. by long-term credits, for we would reinforce not only the consumer goods industry, but, indirectly, Soviet armaments capability." But skeptics greeted this with intimations that the West Germans, who have already increased their trade with the East considerably by a system of guaranteed credits, could easily be tempted by opening markets.

Britain rejected the proposal out of hand, although that nation presently extends longer credits only for ships and heavy industrial installations. Canada favors increased trade with Communists, including China, but does not extend long-term credits. This is the current disposition of France. The rest of the NATO membership was cool to Ball's proposal. The London Daily Mail stated the British case on November 20, pointing out that the United States already was negotiating a big wheat deal with the U.S.S.R. and going on:

"The Americans think trade will stimulate Communism. Britain disagrees, and our trading experience is longer and wider than theirs. They believe with us that financial aid will prevent backward countries embracing Communism; yet they cannot see that rising prosperity may soften the hostilities of Communism where it already exists. Or is it that they will not see? This fear or suspicion of Russian trade haunts them like a bogeyman."

These Days

By John Chamberlain

Party Without A Mission?

Whether General Eisenhower meant anything in particular when he let his roving eye land on Henry Cabot Lodge as one whose name should be put in contention for the 1964 Republican sweepstakes will probably be debated for a long time. But whatever the reason for Ike's gesture may have been, it added one more brushstroke to the picture of a political party that seems bent on committing suicide.

It is not that Lodge is not an able man who might do very well in the White House. But the point is that, when he took on his assignment in South Vietnam, he disqualified himself as a serious contender for any Stateside elective job for as long a period as the war in southeast Asia happens to remain unsettled. He is the captain on the bridge of a ship engaged in a decisive engagement, and he can no more cut and run with dignity than General Patton could have decided to go home and run for President before crossing the Rhine.

Henry Cabot Lodge is a man who is locked in for the duration. If, by any chance, the Republicans were to draft him for the presidential nomination with the war against the Communist Viet Cong still hanging in the balance, the Republican party workers would get up every morning with a terrible feeling of apprehension. Any defeat, any recurrence of trouble, in South Vietnam could immediately be thrown by the Democrats in Lodge's face. Contrariwise, any success, with Lodge gone from Saigon and a good Democrat installed in his place, could be hailed by Lyndon Johnson's followers as something that happened because Lodge was no longer on the premises.

Well, where does this leave the Republicans? The very fact that such strange trial balloons as the Lodge candidacy are being floated this close to convention time helps create a picture of a party that is hopelessly groping for a definition of itself. It is all very well for Eisenhower to have a top drawer list of candidates rather than any one particular candidate. Ike has always been a man above the Republican battle, a military hero who was drafted for politics. As such, he has a right to settle back into the role of Citizen Ike, the man who puts country above party. But this is not a role which working Republicans can accept for themselves, for, if they are to prove to the world that their party has a mission, they must believe that it, and it alone, is the best thing for the country. And they must express their belief in particular candidates, not in a panel of many names.

To date, the Goldwaterites have been the only group of Republicans who have displayed any conviction whatsoever. They have been out beating the bushes for their tiger. They have been talking up a philosophy of Republicanism. Nelson Rockefeller has been displaying plenty of conviction on his own, but no band of dedicated Rockefellerites has as yet put in visible appearance. Instead, many of those who were for Rockefeller before his divorce and remarriage have been acting with disgraceful pusillanimity, waiting for a Gallup poll to disclose whether or not their deserted hero has a chance for a comeback.

The names of Romney, Scranton, General Lucius Clay, Thruston Morton and Senator Margaret Chase Smith have been mentioned from time to time, but nobody has really gone to town for any of them. And the arguments go on about what particular combination of attributes pulled out of an IBM machine might win a margin of votes in South Philadelphia, say, or in Georgia, or in Texas. Outside of the ranks of the Goldwaterites the convictions, as expressed in admiration for flesh-and-blood heroes, just aren't there.

No party can win if it is to continue with this sort of behavior. A party, to be vital, must be filled with fighting men. To date, the only Republican fighters are Rockefeller, who is a brave general without an army, and a host of brave Goldwaterites who are still waiting for the word from an uncommitted leader. As for the rest—apathy, indecision, and indecent waiting in the antechamber of Mr. Gallup.

'I See Lyndon's Been In To See You Too'

What To Do About Lack Of A Vice President?

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Much talk is being heard today and serious consideration is being given here to what may soon become a major issue throughout the country. For the nation has suddenly come to realize that it has no Vice President.

It's true there is a line of succession to the Presidency, but both the Speaker of the House and the President pro tem of the Senate have their own duties to perform and cannot give their time now to all the tasks performed by a Vice President. In short, nobody today is in training to take over the Presidency in an emergency.

Senator Jacob Javits of New York, Republican, has come forth with a proposal that a Constitutional amendment be adopted authorizing a joint session of the two Houses of Congress to elect a Vice President the moment a vacancy in that office occurs. But the defect in his proposal is that it would permit either a member of Congress or a Cabinet Officer to be chosen. No Cabinet member, however, is placed in office by the vote of the people.

The reason why so many persons have brushed aside their worries over the recent change in the Presidency is that Lyndon Johnson became Vice President after he had served the preceding eight years as majority leader of the Senate. Confidence in him arises today out of the fact that he has demonstrated in a position of leadership in Congress skill in handling national and international problems. But would the people have the same confidence today if three weeks ago the successor to President Kennedy had been a Cabinet officer, with little knowledge of the problems of the Executive Branch except the operations of his own department and with no over-all familiarity with legislative questions?

The fact is that the present law of succession is inadequate and perhaps even dangerous. It provides no method of selecting a Vice President. The existing law merely designates the Speaker of the House and the presiding officer of the Senate to be next in line when a vacancy occurs in the Presidency, to be followed by members of the Cabinet in a specified order. No reference is made to a vacancy in the Vice Presidency. It has been suggested that a return to the law prior to 1947—which put cabinet members in direct line ahead of anyone in Congress—would be desirable, but this is opposed in both the Senate and the House, where the feeling is that the selection itself should be made by the people's elected representatives in Congress.

To choose, as is proposed by some, an acting President and wait an interval of even a few months for a general election would produce deep uncertainty in public policy and might even cause some foreign adversary to precipitate a crisis, if not a war, which might be difficult for the temporary official at the head of the Executive Branch of the Government to handle.

What is needed, of course, is a new Vice President immediately that there is a vacancy in that office. He should be selected by Congress from its own membership, and probably would always

TAX CUT — President Johnson's intimates believe that, while giving priority to civil-rights legislation, he will not do so at the expense of the tax cut bill. At present, these two pieces of legislation are awaiting action in different Houses of Congress. It will be possible for him, therefore, to place the same degree of urgency on both, initially.

But it is anticipated that the civil rights bill will move over to the Senate prior to the time that body has completed its work on the tax cut bill. It may be at this stage that Johnson's lieutenants will have to establish a priority. At this point, it is expected that Johnson will make known his preference for action on civil rights.

If he should do otherwise, he would be threatened with the loss of important Democratic leadership strength. Further, he would be faced with the loss of millions of votes that he, as a southerner, vitally needs if he is to be elected to the presidency.

For still another reason, the better course lies in delaying the tax cut bill. The effective date of this bill can be made retroactive — backed up to Jan. 1, if it is passed any time during the first six months next year. Unfortunately, there is no way of extending the benefits of civil rights retroactively.

Don't Abuse The Nose With Strong Solutions

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The nose is a delicate organ and should be treated with respect. Many of the nasal problems of our forefathers were traced to the use of irritating nose drops and spraying with strong antiseptic solutions. Sinus operations were common and many persons became nasal cripples.

There are many reasons why changes were made. The membranes lining the nasal passages and sinuses have a way of healing themselves. They are covered with an invisible coating of mucus secreted from glands located just beneath the surface. The secretions slide back into the throat and are replaced every 10 minutes, day and night. The mucus is propelled in the direction of the throat by thousands of hair-like projections (cilia) that sway back and forth.

In this regard the flow is not dependent upon gravity.

This important function is disturbed by persistent irritation. In the past, many nose drops contained menthol, camphor, thymol or eucalyptol. They irritated and destroyed the cilia when used over a long period. Many of the silver salts did the same. At any rate, little hope for the future could be expected after the membrane was damaged permanently. Congestion becomes a daily problem because the nasal passages and sinuses lost their main line of defense against bacteria, allergens, and irritants, including dust. The nose also became more sensitive to changes in temperature, drafts and dry air.

But nasal problems still exist and require treatment. Drugs such as adrenalin, ephedrine, and Tyzine are employed temporarily because they relieve congestion. They should not be used over long periods. A warm saline solution (½ teaspoon of salt to a glass of water) is an inexpensive and harmless nasal wash. It can be sniffed from the cupped hand or inserted as drops.

The nose has been spared since we recognized the fact that certain nasal disorders are caused by dust, pollen, animal dander or foods. Tracking down and eliminating the cause is most helpful.

Friction Between FBI, Army CID Rivals Feud With Secret Service

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Lack of cooperation between the FBI and the Secret Service, which may have contributed to the tragedy of Dallas, isn't the only area where there is investigative friction.

On J. Edgar Hoover's desk recently has been a study of overlapping jurisdiction between the FBI and the Criminal Investigation Division of the Army, with Hoover wanting to take over all of CID's work in the continental United States.

The Defense Department has opposed this, argues that the military are better able to police and investigate their own security problems. It also suggests that the FBI might be getting too big without adding more duties.

The FBI-CID jurisdictional conflict came up as a result of the suicide of Sgt. Jack Dunlap, the man accused of selling secrets from the National Security Agency at Ft. Meade to the Russians.

Both the FBI and CID were shadowing Dunlap, but both let him commit suicide though they were within 500 feet of him when he stopped on the road, hooked a hose to his exhaust, and brought it into the car where he sat with the windows closed.

It's reported that in this case both the FBI and CID were under orders not to interfere with any suicide attempt, in order to avoid a sensational trial which would upset Senate ratification of the test ban treaty. This report, however, has not been confirmed.

What has been confirmed is that sometime last May Dunlap became conscience stricken over what he had done and made his first suicide attempt. It was then that the Defense Department became suspicious and called in the FBI and CID. During every minute from that point on Dunlap was shadowed. No arrest was made, in order to try to catch him in actual contact with Red agents. He was not able to re-establish contact. Presumably his Russian employers knew about the suicide attempt and figured he was under surveillance.

Meanwhile, Dunlap, a high liver, got short of cash and became desperate. He sold his fancy $1,500 boat for $200. He lost a lot of money at the track and rolled up debts.

Finally, he made his second and this time successful suicide attempt, with FBI and CID agents virtually looking on.

Since then the FBI has been pressing to have all criminal intelligence for the Defense Department, within the USA, turned over to J. Edgar Hoover. The file on Dunlap has been transferred to Hoover.

Note — One piece of information Dunlap gave the Russians was the exact U.S. buildup in Florida and the Caribbean waters before the October 22, 1962, showdown with Moscow over Russian missiles in Cuba. Ironical fact, however, was that Kennedy wanted Khrushchev to get this information, and purposely leaked it through the British, so Khrushchev would realize we weren't bluffing. Russian agents paid Dunlap around $60,000 for the information. They could have saved the money.

Medal Of Honor For JFK

There's an ironic story behind the proposal to award the Congressional Medal of Honor, the nation's highest decoration, to the late President John F. Kennedy.

One of the sponsors of the legislation, Rep. James Roosevelt, D-Calif., opposed such an award to his own father, FDR, after the latter's death in 1945. At that time, the present Speaker, John McCormack, was sponsoring a bill to give the coveted medal to the World War II President.

However, speaking for the Roosevelt family, Jimmy persuaded McCormack to shelve his bill. Roosevelt argued that FDR was not entitled to the Medal of Honor, awarded for bravery in combat "above and beyond the call of duty," because he had died from illness.

Roosevelt now feels that the assassination of Kennedy places him in an entirely different category from his father. So do two other sponsors of the medal for JFK, Rep. Silvio Conte, R-Mass., and Claude Pepper, D-Fla.

NATO And Trade
With The East

Nuclear strategy is bound to dominate the discussions at the three-day ministerial meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Council which opens in Paris today. But a tangential issue is expected to be almost as important and equally vexing.

U. S. Under Secretary of State George Ball on November 18 asked a special Council meeting to adopt a common policy on trade with Communist countries. He was less against trade itself than against the granting of long-term credits. These are considered credits extending longer than five years.

Chancellor Ludwig Erhard of West Germany was quoted as saying in that morning's Figaro: "I consider that we should not reinforce the power of the U.S.S.R. by long-term credits, for we would reinforce not only the consumer goods industry, but, indirectly, Soviet armaments capability." But skeptics greeted this with intimations that the West Germans, who have already increased their trade with the East considerably by a system of guaranteed credits, could easily be tempted by opening markets.

Britain rejected the proposal out of hand, although that nation presently extends longer credits only for ships and heavy industrial installations. Canada favors increased trade with Communists, including China, but does not extend long-term credits. This is the current disposition of France. The rest of the NATO membership was cool to Ball's proposal. The London Daily Mail stated the British case on November 20, pointing out that the United States already was negotiating a big wheat deal with the U.S.S.R. and going on:

"The Americans think trade will stimulate Communism. Britain disagrees, and our trading experience is longer and wider than theirs. They believe with us that financial aid will prevent backward countries embracing Communism; yet they cannot see that rising prosperity may soften the hostilities of Communism where it already exists. Or is it that they will not see? This fear or suspicion of Russian trade haunts them like a bogeyman."

Party Without A Mission?

Whether General Eisenhower meant anything in particular when he let his roving eye land on Henry Cabot Lodge as one whose name should be put in contention for the 1964 Republican sweepstakes will probably be debated for a long time. But whatever the reason for Ike's gesture may have been, it added one more brushstroke to the picture of a political party that seems bent on committing suicide.

It is not that Lodge is not an able man who might do very well in the White House. But the point is that, when he took on his assignment in South Vietnam, he disqualified himself as a serious contender for any Stateside elective job for as long a period as the war in southeast Asia happens to remain unsettled. He is the captain on the bridge of a ship engaged in a decisive engagement, and he can no more cut and run with dignity than General Patton could have decided to go home and run for President before crossing the Rhine.

Henry Cabot Lodge is a man who is locked in for the duration. If, by any chance, the Republicans were to draft him for the presidential nomination with the war against the Communist Viet Cong still hanging in the balance, the Republican party workers would get up every morning with a terrible feeling of apprehension. Any defeat, any recurrence of trouble, in South Vietnam could immediately be thrown by the Democrats in Lodge's face. Contrariwise, any success, with Lodge gone from Saigon and a good Democrat installed in his place, could be hailed by Lyndon Johnson's followers as something that happened because Lodge was no longer on the premises.

Well, where does this leave the Republicans? The very fact that such strange trial balloons as the Lodge candidacy are being floated this close to convention time helps create a picture of a party that is hopelessly groping for a definition of itself. It is all very well for Eisenhower to have a top drawer list of candidates rather than any one particular candidate. Ike has always been a man above the Republican battle, a military hero who was drafted for politics. As such, he has a right to settle back into the role of Citizen Ike, the man who puts country above party. But this is not a role which working Republicans can accept for themselves, for, if they are to prove to the world that their party has a mission, they must believe that it, and it alone, is the best thing for the country. And they must express their belief in particular candidates, not in a panel of many names.

To date, the Goldwaterites have been the only group of Republicans who have displayed any conviction whatsoever. They have been out beating the bushes for their tiger. They have been talking up a philosophy of Republicanism. Nelson Rockefeller has been displaying plenty of conviction on his own, but no band of dedicated Rockefellerites has as yet put in visible appearance. Instead, many of those who were for Rockefeller before his divorce and remarriage have been acting with disgraceful pusillanimity, waiting for a Gallup poll to disclose whether or not their deserted hero has a chance for a comeback.

The names of Romney, Scranton, General Lucius Clay, Thruston Morton and Senator Margaret Chase Smith have been mentioned from time to time, but nobody has really gone to town for any of them. And the arguments go on about what particular combination of attributes pulled out of an IBM machine might win a margin of votes in South Philadelphia, say, or in Georgia, or in Texas. Outside of the ranks of the Goldwaterites the convictions, as expressed in admiration for flesh-and-blood heroes, just aren't there.

No party can win if it is to continue with this sort of behavior. A party, to be vital, must be filled with fighting men. To date, the only Republican fighters are Rockefeller, who is a brave general without an army, and a host of brave Goldwaterites who are still waiting for the word from an uncommitted leader. As for the rest—apathy, indecision, and indecent waiting in the antechamber of Mr. Gallup.

What To Do About Lack Of A Vice President?

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Much talk is being heard today and serious consideration is being given here to what may soon become a major issue throughout the country. For the nation has suddenly come to realize that it has no Vice President.

It's true there is a line of succession to the Presidency, but both the Speaker of the House and the President pro tem of the Senate have their own duties to perform and cannot give their time now to all the tasks performed by a Vice President. In short, nobody today is in training to take over the Presidency in an emergency.

Senator Jacob Javits of New York, Republican, has come forth with a proposal that a Constitutional amendment be adopted authorizing a joint session of the two Houses of Congress to elect a Vice President the moment a vacancy in that office occurs. But the defect in his proposal is that it would permit either a member of Congress or a Cabinet Officer to be chosen. No Cabinet member, however, is placed in office by the vote of the people.

Alfie looked quizzical. "Wut uvver good things of life do you git fer them 'igh taxes?"

"Well—" I thought a bit. "The American taxpayer gets a lot of things. The Venus probe, for example, we found out that the other side of Venus is just as hot as this side."

"That must be a grite comfort to the lady wif the broken leg," said Alfie. "She c'n warm 'er broken leg on the uvver side of Venus."

I tried to explain the glow of pride the American taxpayers got out of pure scientific achievement. We might have lived and died without knowing how hot the other side of Venus was. But he's a poor ignorant Cockney and he actually doesn't care how hot the other side of Venus is. I explained that even if the government had saved all those billions from the Venus probe, we still wouldn't use it to pay for taxpayers' broken legs because that wasn't the American way.

"We have private medical insurance plans. That's the democratic way," I said.

"Why didn't it pay this poor woman's bill, then?"

I explained that she probably couldn't afford private medical insurance after paying her taxes. And anyhow, private medical plans only paid part of the bills. "My daughter had an eye operation that cost about $700. Blue Cross paid about $150 of it. My daughter also had a tonsils and adenoids operation that cost $200. The Blue Cross paid $39."

"O'i don't think O'i could afford ter live in so free a country," said Alfie. "O'i'd much rather 'ave the gov'mint enslave me an' pay me bills."

"But that's socialism," I cried. "I 'ate myself," said Alfie cheerfully. "But Hime a lazy Socialist spiv. Yer know the gov'mint pyes the medical bills of all the citizens in France, West Germany, Sweden, all of Scandinavia, Belgium, Holland, Italy, Russia—" he scratched his head. "Hit's a well-known fact that the gov'mint pyes the citizen's medical bills in every civilized country in the world except the gloriously free United States of America."

"But we're free," I cried. "Free! Free!"

"Free to pay the bills," said Alfie cheerfully. "Tell me, gov'nor, are there any other countries as gloriously free to pay its medical expenses as America?"

"Well, of course, there's Afghanistan, there's the Congo and Outer Mongolia. They're free too."

Alfie sniffed. "We calls 'em backward."

Year-End Look At Top News In W. Va.

Editor's note: Following is the first of five dispatches reviewing West Virginia top stories of 1963, the year in government and politics, business and industry, the lighter side of the news, and sports.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — It started when church bells from Chester to Bluefield and from Williamson to Harpers Ferry rang in the new year. It survived "West Virginia Moon" and cancellation of the "Big Ear." It reached a happy climax when the young and vigorous President of the United States—a special friend—came to visit and help mark the occasion. And it tapered off as the year 1963 marched to its conclusion.

It was the West Virginia Centennial — the Mountain State's observance of its 100th birthday — and it provided the state with its biggest story of the year.

These were the Top Ten Stories of 1963, selected by the United Press International staff on the basis of lasting importance and continued public interest, as well as one one-time "shock" effect.

1. State marks 100th birthday.
2. Mine explosion at Dola kills 22.
3. Fight over Legislative apportionment.
4. Spring floods claim nine lives.
5. Blue Law battle rages.
6. Pickets march, lawyers contest over civil rights.
7. Drought and forest fires hit state.
8. Plane crash kills fire marshal, racing chairman.
9. Welfare problems rock state, require special session of Legislature.
10. Appalachian Region problems attacked.

"Moon" Causes Furor
The first major Centennial event in January was a harbinger of things to come. It attracted an unexpected amount of public attention—not all of it favorable—and it made everyone aware of the Centennial.

Feature attraction of that event was "West Virginia Moon," a work of "art" which looked to most laymen like it had been thrown together by an unskilled carpenter and daubed with a little paint. But the serious critics mostly liked it—and the rest could largely lump it. Artist Joe Moss bore up well under it all, with the aid of one of four $1,963 first prizes.

There were other bigger successes, like the "sports greats" banquet, selection of the Centennial queen, the special meeting of the Legislature in Wheeling, the national Youth Science Honors Comp., the Centennial train and showboat. They more than balanced disappointments like the Navy's cancellation of its "Big Ear" radio astronomy center at Sugar Grove, which was to serve as the main Centennial emblem.

Biggest and best of all was the Statehood Day Ceremony in Charleston June 20, with President Kennedy as speaker. He told a rain-drenched crowd of 10,000:

"I am proud to come here on this rainy day and salute this state, and join you in committing West Virginia and the country to another 100 years of progress."

That visit, and Kennedy's long friendship with West Virginia dating from the key 1960 primary, were remembered with special poignancy when the President was cut down by an assassin five months later.

Spark Causes Blast
Fifty-two men were at work in the Clinchfield Coal Co. mine at Dola, near Clarksburg, the night of April 25 when an accumulation of methane gas was touched off by an electric spark. Twenty-two died in the state's worst mine disaster in more than four years. A hearing uncovered lax safety procedures.

The legal fight over how seats in the Legislature should be divided among the counties spanned the entire year. The Legislature tried to settle the question, under threat of a federal court suit, but its answer was rejected by the big, and under-represented, counties. Suits challenging the law were still being fought in state and federal courts as the year ended.

Spring floods hit the northern and then, in quick succession, the southern part of the state, claiming nine lives and causing untold damage including $1.5 million to roads and bridges alone. Wheeling Creek and the Tug and Guyan Rivers in the Williamson-Logan areas were among the worst offenders. The Guyan, for example, went up 23 feet in 12 hours at Logan.

Traditional merchants and the newer discount houses fought over the old Sunday closing law, with the Legislature and the public mostly in between. The law was tightened by the lawmakers but the bill was thrown out by the Supreme Court on a technicality. Another round was set for next year.

The civil rights battle was fought on a variety of fronts. There were repeated "sit-in" demonstrations at a Huntington restaurant, a Negro march on the Greenbrier during the Southern Governors Conference, a flurry of new court actions, and a limited anti-discrimination order issued by Gov. W. W. Barr.

FORESTS CLOSED

The summer was one of the driest on record and the drought was the worst in 32 years. Crops shriveled, small streams dried up, water supplies were seriously affected. The aftermath was a siege of forest fires that led to suspension of hunting season and temporary closure of all forest lands.

Two top state officials died when their private plane crashed near Martinsburg Airport on a clear Saturday afternoon Aug. 10. State Racing Commission Chairman Eugene M. Fredericks and State Fire Marshal B. E. Wright—the pilot—were on their way to Charlestown for a commission meeting.

Thorniest problem of state government was keeping welfare programs operating. Commissioner Bernard Smith told the Legislature he needed supplemental money to carry him to July 1—saw the request axed. Two months later the lawmakers were back in Charleston for a special session to cough up an added $475,000. The Legislature countered by sitting up a welfare investigation which produced next to nothing.

West Virginia and the nine other states in "Appalachia" started work on a concerted program to catch up economically with the rest of the country. Under Secretary of Commerce Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. was named head of a presidential commission to coordinate the renewed, all-out effort.

They more than balanced disappointments like the Navy's cancellation of its "Big Ear" radio astronomy center at Sugar Grove, which was to serve as the main Centennial emblem.

Biggest and best of all was the Statehood Day Ceremony in Charleston June 20, with President Kennedy as speaker. He told a rain-drenched crowd of 10,000:

"I am proud to come here on this rainy day and salute this state, and join you in committing West Virginia and the country to another 100 years of progress."

That visit, and Kennedy's long friendship with West Virginia dating from the key 1960 primary, were remembered with special poignancy when the President was cut down by an assassin five months later.

Spark Causes Blast

Fifty-two men were at work in the Clinchfield Coal Co. mine at Dola, near Clarksburg, the night of April 25 when an accumulation of methane gas was touched off by an electric spark. Twenty-two died in the state's worst mine disaster in more than four years. A hearing uncovered lax safety procedures.

The legal fight over how seats in the Legislature should be divided among the counties spanned the entire year. The Legislature tried to settle the question, under threat of a federal court suit, but its answer was rejected by the big, and under-represented, counties. Suits challenging the law were still being fought in state and federal courts as the year ended.

Spring floods hit the northern and then, in quick succession, the southern part of the state, claiming nine lives and causing untold damage including $1.5 million to roads and bridges alone. Wheeling Creek and the Tug and Guyan Rivers in the Williamson-Logan areas were among the worst offenders. The Guyan, for example, went up 23 feet in 12 hours at Logan.

Traditional merchants and the newer discount houses fought over the old Sunday closing law, with the Legislature and the public mostly in between. The law was tightened by the lawmakers but the bill was thrown out by the Supreme Court on a technicality. Another round was set for next year.

The civil rights battle was fought on a variety of fronts. There were repeated "sit-in" demonstrations at a Huntington restaurant, a Negro march on the Greenbrier during the Southern Governors Conference, a flurry of new court actions, and a limited anti-discrimination order issued by Gov. W. W. Barron.

FORESTS CLOSED

The summer was one of the driest on record and the drought was the worst in 32 years. Crops shriveled, small streams dried up, water supplies were seriously affected. The aftermath was a siege of forest fires that led to suspension of hunting season and temporary closure of all forest lands.

Two top state officials died when their private plane crashed near Martinsburg Airport on a clear Saturday afternoon Aug. 10. State Racing Commission Chairman Eugene M. Fredericks and State Fire Marshal B. E. Wright—the pilot—were on their way to Charleston for a commission meeting.

Thorniest problem of state government was keeping welfare programs operating. Commissioner Bernard Smith told the Legislature he needed supplemental money to carry him to July 1—saw the request axed. Two months later the lawmakers were back in Charleston for a special session to cough up an added $475,000. The Legislature countered by sitting up a welfare investigation which produced next to nothing.

West Virginia and the nine other states in "Appalachia" started work on a concerted program to catch up economically with the rest of the country. Under Secretary of Commerce Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. was named head of a presidential commission to coordinate the renewed, all-out effort.

Hunters Slay 720 Deer In Allegany County, 609 In Garrett

Kill Exceeds 1962 Totals In Both Counties

1960 Records Stand; Small Game Season Will Resume Today

Seven hundred and twenty deer were killed in Allegany county during Maryland's first nine-day gunning season which ended Saturday, according to Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden.

This is an unofficial figure and the total exceeded by 21 the 699 whitetails slain during the 7-day season of 1962. Allegany county's all-time high was 782 for seven days in 1960.

This year's kill was better than anticipated and the only bad feature was the illegal kill. Forty doe and button bucks were located and it is assumed that many more were slain. Eighteen hunters, however, were apprehended and the minimum fines is $100 and costs.

Garrett Total 609

Garrett county's unofficial total was 609 compared to 577 in 1962. Washington county's bag of 337 was below last year's total of 344. Records of 804 and 410 were established in Garrett and Washington counties in 1960.

Charles H. Milton, Maryland's chief game warden, yesterday announced that state hunters slew 4,142 bucks during the 9-day season. The total was 237 below the number bagged last year. Allegany county led the state in kills. Baltimore hunters accounted for 195 deer brought down in Allegany county.

Gets Prize Buck

David Wilson, 217 Poplar Street, Westernport, got the prize buck of the season, a 13-pointer with a 27-inch spread. This deer weighed 140 pounds, was killed on Savage Mountain and checked at Jake's Service Station, Westernport.

Regional Warden Minke noted that an unusual number of women bagged bucks in Allegany county. They included Kathleen Hamburg, Ruth Felton, Beulah Friend and Mary Sisler, of Cumberland and vicinity; Marilyn Collins, Rawlings; Marlene Skenendore, Mt. Savage; Dorothy Gracie and Edith M. Nester, Frostburg; Mabel Evan and June James, Oldtown; Thelma Neff, Luke, and Glenna Pugh, Baltimore.

Those on the distaff side who scored in Garrett county were: Betty Fazenbaker, Bloomington; Elaine Hetrick, Grantsville, who got a 12-pointer; Lucinda Hoover, Accident; Susie Coddington, Charles E. Lattimer, coach of Fort Hill High School's undefeated football team which captured the city and C.V.A. League championships this year, has been cited for a special achievement plaque to be presented to him at the 16th annual sports celebrities dinner Sunday, January 12 at St. Mary's Church Hall.

Lattimer's fifth team at Fort Hill posted a 10-0 record and climaxed its season with a 7-0 victory over Allegany High School on Thanksgiving Day. The Sentinel won the league title with a 5-0 record. Over five campaigns Lattimer's teams have won 41, lost six and played two ties for an .872 mark.

Lattimer is the fifth sports personality named to receive an award at next month's dinner which will be emceed by Bob Prince, the "Voice of the Pittsburgh Pirates." Others selected were Dana G. "Horse" Lough, athletic director and basketball and football coach at Potomac State College; Chester G. Payne, Allegany High School basketball coach and Dr. M. R. J. Willie, Allison Park, Pa., and Ronald "Red" McCurdy, McKeesport, Pa., who have played a prominent part in the promotion of the Cumberland National Sports Car Classic staged here annually.

Tickets for the dinner are now on sale at the Toy Shop, Nu-Way Shoe Shop, Mel's Cash Register Store, Spa Bar, Cas Taylor's Restaurant, Geatz's Tavern, Wilson Hardware Company and Sports Shoppe.

Proceeds of the dinner go to the Allegany County League for Crippled Children.

Raiders Edge Denver To Keep AFL Hopes Alive

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Oakland quarterback Tom Flores fired five touchdown passes and needed them all Sunday as the Raiders defeated Denver 35-31, keeping alive the Raiders' hopes for an American Football League divisional crown.

The triumph over the unexpectedly tough Broncos left Oakland with a 9-4 record compared with 10-3 for San Diego in the Western Division. Each team has one game left.

Flores hit on scoring passes of 32 yards to Bo Roberson on the Raiders' first play of the game; 18 and 3 yards to Art Powell, and 26 and 42 yards to Clem Daniels.

The former University of the Pacific star wound up with 11 completions in 20 attempts for 272 yards. Denver rookie Mickey Slaughter from Louisiana Tech actually passed for more yardage, completing 20 of 35 throws for 288 yards and two touchdowns.

Slaughter's scoring passes went nine yards to Gene Prebo and 20 to Lionel Taylor as the cellar-dwelling Broncos tried for an upset.

FADE-FREE ALUMINUM BUILDINGS... IN BLACK, GRAY OR COLORS?

Only a few years ago, the use of new and dramatic anodized colors in aluminum curtain walls and other building components was virtually prohibited because of sun-fading.

But today, for striking new building designs such as Houston's 33-story Tennessee Building (above), architects can confidently specify any of ten rich colors ranging from black to the glowing amber used in the Tennessee Building—Kalcator® architectural aluminum developed and patented by KAISER ALUMINUM. It is the first anodic finish in a range of colors for architectural aluminum whose colors are proved sunfast in actual commercial use.

The revolutionary Kalcator process was developed and perfected by following the two basic steps: our corporation takes to serve its customers: First, find a need—in this case, the need expressed by many architects for truly sunfast colors in architectural aluminum.

Second, fill it—we began with an idea for an electrochemical process which would achieve color on the surface of the metal without the use of dyes, we lab-tested and field-proved it for years before anyone built with it, and we licensed the process worldwide to make the beauty of Kalcator products available to architects everywhere.

Find a need. Fill it.
With this way of working, KAISER ALUMINUM is contributing more useful product innovations—and giving more customers better service—every day.

1960 Records Stand; Small Game Season Will Resume Today

Seven hundred and twenty deer were killed in Allegany county during Maryland's first nine-day gunning season which ended Saturday, according to Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden.

Charles H. Milton, Maryland's chief game warden, yesterday announced that state hunters slew 4,142 bucks during the 9-day season. The total was 237 below the number bagged last year. Allegany county led the state in kills. Baltimore hunters accounted for 195 deer brought down in Allegany county.

Raiders Edge Denver To Keep AFL Hopes Alive

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Oakland quarterback Tom Flores fired five touchdown passes and needed them all Sunday as the Raiders defeated Denver 35-31, keeping alive the Raiders' hopes for an American Football League divisional crown.

The triumph over the unexpectedly tough Broncos left Oakland with a 9-4 record compared with 10-3 for San Diego in the Western Division. Each team has one game left.

Flores hit on scoring passes of 32 yards to Bo Roberson on the Raiders' first play of the game; 18 and 3 yards to Art Powell, and 26 and 42 yards to Clem Daniels.

The former University of the Pacific star wound up with 11 completions in 20 attempts for 272 yards. Denver rookie Mickey Slaughter from Louisiana Tech actually passed for more yardage, completing 20 of 35 throws for 288 yards and two touchdowns.

Slaughter's scoring passes went nine yards to Gene Prebela and 20 to Lionel Taylor as the cellar-dwelling Broncos tried for an upset.

Tittle's Aerial Work Defeats Steelers, 33-17

Morrison Stars Filling In For Ailing Webster

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Y. A. Tittle pitched the New York Giants to the National Football League's Eastern Conference title with three record-breaking touchdown passes in a 33-17 victory over the fired-up Pittsburgh Steelers Sunday in a winner-take-all showdown in the final game of the regular season.

Joe Morrison, the handyman of the Giants who was filling in for injured Alex Webster, caught two of Tittle's scoring passes and dove over from the one for three big touchdowns.

The season's largest crowd at Yankee Stadium, 63,240, sensed the Steelers' second half bid was dead when Frank Gifford made two sensational catches of Tittle's passes midway in the third period. The first catch came on a third and eight situation and was a one-hander that gained 30 yards to the Steelers' 47.

The victory sent the Giants into a National Football League championship game Dec. 29 against the Chicago Bears at Chicago's Wrigley Field. The Bears beat the Detroit Lions 24-14 Sunday for the Western title.

MVP Proves Worth

Tittle, voted the most valuable player in the league earlier in the week in an Associated Press poll, proved it all over again with another fine performance on a bitterly cold day with a chill wind whipping across the stadium.

The Steelers missed several chances when Ed Brown's passes were erratic either over the head or short of receivers.

Del Shofner caught a 41-yard scoring bomb from Tittle in the first quarter, after Don Chandler's field goal. The field goal was set up by Theron Sapp's fumble on the Steelers' first play from scrimmage.

The Steelers appeared certain of a score a few minutes later when Brown hit Gary Ballman who faked Dick Lynch but fumbled the ball into the end zone. Erich Barnes picked it up and ran it back to the Giants' 24.

Then the Giants went on for the Tittle - to - Shofner touchdown pass.

Morrison Breaks Free

Morrison broke free and caught his TD passes from Tittle all alone, several yards from any defender. One traveled three yards and the other 22.

Tittle, clenching his fists and leaping into the air after the Giants scored their touchdowns, was given a tremendous ovation from the big crowd that swirled onto the field and brought down the goal posts at the end.

It was 16-0 with seconds to go in the half before the Steelers broke into the scoring column on Lou Michaels' 87-yard field goal.

Brown's 21-yard pass to Ballman at 4:16 of the third period pulled the Steelers to within six points of the Giants 16-10, because Chandler's first conversion attempt hit a post. However, the Giants came right back with Gifford making that spectacular catch and rolled for two TDs within three minutes.

A 40-yard pass from Brown to Buddy Dial with 29 seconds left in the third period completed the Steelers' scoring.

N. Y. Knicks Figure In Three-Cornered Deal

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Knickerbockers Sunday acquired backcourt man Johnny Egan and forward Bob Boozer in a three-cornered deal with the Detroit Pistons and the Cincinnati Royals.

The Knicks, who are leading the National Basketball Association in player trades this season, sent backcourt man Donnis Butcher and Bob Duffy, plus a player to be named at the 1964 draft meeting, to the Pistons for Egan and forward Larry Staverman.

Staverman was then traded, along with an undisclosed amount of cash, to the Royals for Boozer.

St. Mary's trounced St. Ambrose, 60-17, in the other half of yesterday's doubleheader, and St. Michael's rolled over Mt. Savage, 82-28, in a Saturday game at Frostburg.

Ricky Scaletta racked up 19 points and Mike Malloy and Glenn Cross controlled the backboards for the Fighting Irish. The latter also came through with 14 tallies. Kevin Mattingly scored 13 for the Flying Dutchmen.

St. Mary's raced away to a 39-4 halftime lead in breezing past the Creashtown quint. Ten of the winners' players crashed the scoring column, led by Jim Conway with 15 tallies. Paul Skelley was high for St. Ambrose with eight.

Kopper headed St. Michael's 36-field goal assault with 10 two-pointers and 20 points. Dan Williams bucketed ten for Mt. Savage.

A CYL tripleheader is set for Thursday at St. Peter & Paul. St. Mary's opposes Mt. Savage in the opener at 6:15 p. m., St. Michael's and St. Patrick's collide at 7:30 and St. Peter and Paul takes on St. Ambrose at 8:45. The latter contest was originally billed for Cresaptown Junior High.

Chicago Repels Lions' Threat For 24-14 Win

Wade Tosses Two Touchdown Passes In Second Half

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP) — Quarterback Bill Wade threw two second-half touchdown passes and the Chicago Bears turned back a late Detroit threat Sunday for a 24-14 victory and the Western Division title of the National Football League.

The Bears, gaining their first divisional title since 1956, will meet the New York Giants, winners of the Eastern Division crown in Chicago Dec. 29.

Trailing 7-3 in the third quarter the Bears scored on a 51-yard touchdown pass from Wade to Johnny Morris and then cashed in with the clincher three minutes later when Wade hit Mike Ditka with a 22-yard pass in the end zone.

The Lions, knocked out of the running in the final game of the season last year by the Bears, never gave up. They came back with a 71-yard touchdown drive early in the fourth quarter capped by a four-yard touchdown pass from Earl Morrall to Terry Barr.

Trailing 17-14, Detroit gained possession on its 36. Tom Watkins went up the middle to the Bear 32 but the Chicago defense stiffened and the Bears got control with less than two minutes to play. However, they were forced to punt and on the next play Dave Whitsett intercepted a Morrall pass and raced 39 yards for a touchdown with 25 seconds to play.

Once Chicago had moved ahead 10-7 on the Wade-Morris score, the great Bear defense put on a tremendous rush and end Doug Atkins forced Morrall to fumble.

Makes Payoff Pitch

Wade then hit Morris with a 17-yard pass to the 22 and followed with the payoff pitch to Ditka on the next play.

The Bears could have wrapped it up midway in the fourth quarter when they drove to the Detroit four-yard line with a 38-yard pass from Wade to Morris keying the march.

However, a series of penalties and losses set them back to the 36 at which point Detroit took over and gave the new divisional champions a scare when Watkins took off for his big run.

Unitas' 14-Yard TD Pass Gives Colts 19-16 Win

Beat Rams In Last 40 Seconds; Johnny Hangs Up NFL Record

BALTIMORE (AP) — Overcoming a flock of scoring frustrations, quarterback John Unitas threw a 14-yard touchdown pass in the last 40 seconds Sunday for a 19-16 victory by the Baltimore Colts over the Los Angeles Rams and a National Football League record.

The pass caught by Tom Matte was the 237th completion this season for Unitas, two more than the previous high set by Sonny Jurgenson for Philadelphia in 1961.

The Colts wound up their first season under Coach Don Shula with an 8-6 record and third place in the Western Conference.

The Colts seemed to have kicked away their last chance for victory when they fumbled into the end zone with 1½ minutes to play and the Rams recovered.

They got the ball back on the Ram 40 when Jim Welch jarred it loose from fullback Ben Wilson and Bobby Boyd retrieved it. Two quick Unitas passes to Matte and Raymond Berry set up the clincher.

Browns' Renfro Retiring At 33

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Flanker back Ray Renfro, the second oldest member of the Cleveland Browns in point of service, Sunday announced his retirement from the National Football League club immediately following the game between the Browns and the Washington Redskins.

The retirement, however, will not become effective until Jan. 5, the day the Browns meet the Green Bay Packers in the NFL play-off bowl in Miami, Fla. Both Cleveland and Green Bay earned the trip by finishing second in their respective divisions.

Renfro, 33-year-old graduate of North Texas State, has been with the Browns for 12 years, a figure topped only by Lou Groza, who has played 17 years for Cleveland.

Renfro, one of the greatest pass receivers in the team's history, had been used only sparingly this year after surrendering his starting role to Gary Collins. He had played in three pro bowl games before this season.

Davidson Romps, Hetzel Scores 40

All-America candidate Fred Hetzel hit his season high of 40 points Saturday night as Davidson College romped over Jacksonville, 121-93, for its fifth straight triumph.

The Wildcats took off with an 18-0 lead and went on to establish a new school record, breaking their mark of 112 points scored in a home game.

Tabbed as the pre-season favorite in the Southern Conference cage race, Davidson makes its first conference start Wednesday against Furman.

Jim Brown Ups Rushing Tootal Past Mile Mark

Cleveland Defeats Washington, 27-20

WASHINGTON (AP)—Jimmy Brown ran his season's rushing total past the mile mark and Frank Ryan pierced the Washington defense for three touchdown passes Sunday as Cleveland scored a 27-20 National Football League victory over the Redskins.

With 125 yards in 28 carries, Brown pushed his total yardage for the year to 1,863 yards and became the first NFL player to gain more than a mile on the ground in one season.

The victory gave the Browns second place in the NFL's Eastern Division, with a 10-4 record, bowl game in Miami.

Cleveland moved to a 20-7 halftime lead on a pair of 42-yard field goals by Lou Groza and two touchdown passes by Ryan. One was for 34 yards to Gary Collins and the others for 33 yards to Ernie Green.

Bobby Mitchell was the main offensive threat for the Redskins with four pass receptions for 99 yards. He also came through with a 92-yard kickoff return in the second quarter for Washington's first touchdown.

Other Redskin touchdowns came on a one-yard run by Billy Barnes and a 23-yard pass from Norman Snead to Barnes.

VanderKelen Leads Minnesota To Win

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Quarterback Ron VanderKelen in his first starting assignment as a pro directed the Minnesota Vikings to a 34-13 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles Sunday in the 1963 National Football League finale for both teams.

The Vikings closed their third season in the league with a 5-8-1 record, while the hapless Eagles ended in the Eastern Division cellar with a 2-10-2 season.

The Vikings spotted Philadelphia a 6-0 lead and then came on to win.

ACC, Potomac Score Fourth Straight Wins

Oilers Eliminated By 20-14 Defeat

Allegany Community College and Potomac State, scheduled to oppose each other here Friday, ran their respective winning streaks to four games with victories on the road Saturday.

The surprising ACC Trojans copped a 92-82 decision over Charles County Community College, and the Catamounts (5-1) triumphed over Prince Georges Community College, 75-67.

Frostburg State went down to a heart-breaking defeat, losing in the final seconds to Bowie State, 75-74, on the Baltimore County team's floor Saturday afternoon.

Ex-Fort Hill cagers Billy Dean and Pat Wilson pumped in 20 points apiece to pace the unbeaten Trojans. The home team knotted the score at 82-82, but ACC reeled off ten straight points to ice the decision. A tip-in goal by Wilson snapped the deadlock.

Sharpshooting Dave Lawson rang up 29 points and Don Harman came through with 20 for the Catamounts. Lawson, who boasts an average of 24.7 per game, upped his six-game output to 148.

Bowie's Jackie Smith executed a steal and drove in for the game-winning two-pointer with just three seconds remaining to deal the Bobcats their second setback in four games. Bill Wilston and Charlie Robinson canned 24 and 21 tallies, respectively, for Frostburg.

Chargers Clinch Tie In AFL Race

Oilers Eliminated By 20-14 Defeat

HOUSTON (AP)—San Diego backed three pass interceptions with the running of Paul Lowe for a 17-point second quarter Sunday and a 20-14 victory over the Houston Oilers to clinch a tie for the Western Division championship of the American Football League.

The defeat eliminated Houston from the title chase and set up a Dec. 28 playoff between Buffalo and Boston for the Eastern Division crown.

San Diego, with a 10-3 record and a one-game lead over Oakland, needs only a tie against its third division title in four years.

The Chargers jumped to a 14-0 lead over Houston on one-yard plunges by Tobin Rote and Bob Jackson after interceptions by Emil Karas and Chuck Allen.

Blanda then struck quickly with passes of 27 and 24 yards to Bob McLeod and Willard Deweall to cut the San Diego lead to 14-7 but Paul Maguire intercepted another Blanda toss at the Oilers 24 and George Blair kicked a 22-yard field goal.

Giants And Bears Win Division Titles, Play For NFL Crown Dec. 29

Titte's Aerial Work Defeats Steelers, 33-17

Morrison Stars Filling In For Ailing Webster

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Y. A. Titte pitched the New York Giants to the National Football League's Eastern Conference title with three record-breaking touchdown passes in a 33-17 victory over the fired-up Pittsburgh Steelers Sunday in a winner-take-all showdown in the final game of the regular season.

Joe Morrison, the handyman of the Giants who was filling in for injured Alex Webster, caught two of Titte's scoring passes and dove over from the one for three big touchdowns.

The season's largest crowd at Yankee Stadium, 63,240, sensed the Steelers' second half bid was dead when Frank Gifford made two sensational catches of Titte's passes midway in the third period. The first catch came on a third and eight situation and was a one-hander that gained 30 yards to the Steelers' 47.

The victory sent the Giants into a National Football League championship game Dec. 29 against the Chicago Bears at Chicago's Wrigley Field. The Bears beat the Detroit Lions 24-14 Sunday for the Western title.

MVP Proves Worth

Titte, voted the most valuable player in the league earlier in the week in an Associated Press poll, proved it all over again with another fine performance on a bitterly cold day with a chill wind whipping across the stadium.

The Steelers missed several chances when Ed Brown's passes were erratic either over the head or short of receivers.

Del Shofner caught a 41-yard scoring bomb from Titte in the first quarter, after Don Chandler's field goal. The field goal was set up by Theron Sapp's fumble on the Steelers' first play from scrimmage.

The Steelers appeared certain of a score a few minutes later when Brown hit Gary Ballman who faked Dick Lynch but fumbled the ball into the end zone. Erich Barnes picked it up and ran it back to the Giants' 34. Then the Giants went on for the Titte - to - Shofner touchdown pass.

Morrison Breaks Free

Morrison broke free and caught his TD passes from Titte all alone, several yards from any defender. One traveled three yards and the other 22.

Titte, clenching his fists and leaping into the air after the Giants scored their touchdowns, was given a tremendous ovation from the big crowd that swirled onto the field and brought down the goal posts at the end.

It was 16-0 with seconds to go in the half before the Steelers broke into the scoring column on Lou Michaels' 87-yard field goal.

Brown's 21-yard pass to Ballman at 4:16 of the third period pulled the Steelers to within six points of the Giants 16-10, because Chandler's first conversion attempt hit a post. However, the Giants came right back with Gifford making that spectacular catch and rolled for two TDs within three minutes.

A 40-yard pass from Brown to Buddy Dial with 29 seconds left in the third period completed the Steelers' scoring.

N. Y. Knicks Figure In Three-Cornered Deal

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Knickerbockers Sunday acquired backcourt man Johnny Egan and forward Bob Boozer in a three-cornered deal with the Detroit Pistons and the Cincinnati Royals.

The Knicks, who are leading the National Basketball Association in player trades this season, sent backcourt man Donnis Butcher and Bob Duffy, plus a player to be named at the 1964 draft meeting, to the Pistons for Egan and forward Larry Staverman.

Staverman was then traded, along with an undisclosed amount of cash, to the Royals for Boozer.

St. Patrick's Raps Dutchmen In CYL Opener

St. Mary's Romps Over St. Ambrose

Defending champion St. Peter and Paul took it on the chin from St. Patrick's to the tune of 54-37 yesterday afternoon in the Catholic Youth Basketball League opener for both teams at St. Peter & Paul gymnasium.

St. Mary's trounced St. Ambrose, 60-17, in the other half of yesterday's doubleheader, and St. Michael's rolled over Mt. Savage, 82-28, in a Saturday game at Frostburg.

Ricky Scaletta racked up 19 points and Mike Malloy and Glenn Cross controlled the backboards for the Fighting Irish. The latter also came through with 14 tallies. Kevin Mattingly scored 13 for the Flying Dutchmen.

St. Mary's raced away to a 39-4 halftime lead in breezing past the Creashtown quint. Ten of the winners' players crashed the scoring column, led by Jim Conway with 15 tallies. Paul Skelley was high for St. Ambrose with eight.

Kopper headed St. Michael's 36-field goal assault with 10 two-pointers and 20 points. Dan Williams bucketed ten for Mt. Savage.

A CYL tripleheader is set for Thursday at St. Peter & Paul. St. Mary's opposes Mt. Savage in the opener at 6:15 p. m. St. Michael's and St. Patrick's collide at 7:30 and St. Peter and Paul takes on St. Ambrose at 8:45. The latter contest was originally billed for Cresaptown Junior High.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South you hold:
 ♠ 7 ♣ K ♢ 9 ♣ 13 ♠ A ♢ 2

The bidding has proceeded:
 North East South West
 1 ♠ 2 ♠ 2 ♠ Pass
 1 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
 A—Five clubs. Prospects for a slam are very good and an 11 trick contract should be safe. Showing the ace of clubs will induce partner to contract for slam if he has the other controls.

Q. 2—As South with both sides vulnerable you hold:
 ♠ A ♢ 8 ♣ 6 ♣ K ♢ 9 ♣ A ♢ 2 ♠ 10 ♣ 6 ♣ 5

The bidding has proceeded:
 South West North East
 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ 2 NT ?

What do you bid now?
 A—Pass. East has relieved you of the obligation to rebid and you should be pleased to defer temporarily to partner. East may be using the unusual no trump overall or he may just be up to monkey business, but in any event North heard you open the bidding and the next decision should be his.

Q. 3—As South you hold:
 ♠ 10 ♢ 6 ♣ 7 ♣ A ♢ 10 ♣ 8 ♣ 4 ♢ 3

The bidding has proceeded:
 North East South West
 1 ♠ Pass 1 NT Pass 3 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
 A—The fact is true that you have already shown your six points by the original response, nevertheless your hand contains two features which it might not have possessed, namely: three trumps to the 10, and the ruffing value in hearts. Therefore, bid four spades.

Q. 4—As South you hold:
 ♠ K ♢ 2 ♣ 7 ♣ 5 ♣ K ♢ 8 ♣ 10 ♢ 9 ♣ 6 ♣ 3

The bidding has proceeded:
 North East South West
 1 ♠ Pass 1 NT Pass 2 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
 A—A bid of three hearts is clearly indicated, because partner presumably has five hearts and four spades. It is your duty, therefore, to return to the suit in which your side has eight trumps rather than seven. Your response of one no trump was entirely sound, and unless it is your intention to cast a slur upon your partner there is no occasion to be nervous.

Q. 5—As South you hold:
 ♠ 10 ♢ 7 ♣ 4 ♢ 9 ♣ 6 ♣ K ♢ 4 ♣ K ♢ 2

The bidding has proceeded:

Rowlesburg Has Fourth Tragedy In Nine Days

Pedestrian Is Killed By Car

The little community of Rowlesburg, W. Va., had its fourth tragic death in nine days Saturday when a 78-year-old man died of injuries an hour after he was struck by a car while crossing a highway near his home.

The man was identified as Adam Henry Moats, who resided on W. Va. Route 72, one mile south of Rowlesburg. Authorities said the man had crossed the highway to dump ashes and was returning to his home when he was struck by a car operated by Willard Reckert of Crellin. Mr. Moats was taken to his home where he died about an hour later.

West Virginia State Police are investigating the accident. No charges have been preferred against Reckert pending the outcome of the investigation.

Friday afternoon William J. Calhoun, 76-year-old retired railroad employe, was struck and killed when he walked into the path of a train at the B&O Crossing.

The first of tragic deaths to strike the Rowlesburg community occurred December 6 when two teen-aged brothers, Philip and Robert Clark, were burned to death when a fire swept through their garage apartment on W. Va. 72. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Clark, who were injured in that fire, are patients in Kingwood Hospital where they are reported in good condition.

Mr. Moats was born in Aurora, a son of the late John Morgan and Annie (Shipp) Moats.

He is survived by his wife, Mandelina (Wagner) Moats; three sons, Charles of Ohio; Ollie, Masontown, and Walter, Howesville; one daughter, Miss Dora Moats, Hutton, Md.; two sisters, Mrs. Florence Poling, Rowlesburg, and Mrs. Maude McGinnis, Howesville; 15 grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

The body is at the Fike-Watson Funeral Home, Rowlesburg, where a service will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p. m. Rev. A. J. Young will officiate.

Services for Mr. Calhoun will be conducted today at 2 p. m. at Christ Methodist Church with Rev. Young officiating. Interment will be in Pleasant Valley Cemetery, near Oakland.

Shareholders Will Be Paid By Christmas

Five Directors Assure Action

Because of the action of five directors of Home Building and Loan Association Inc., shareholders of the association will be paid in cash before Christmas.

The association announced that the five directors have assigned 65 per cent of their personal savings-shares in the association to Maryland Savings-Share Insurance Corporation in order that non-director's savings-shares may be paid in full and immediately.

The agreement executed by five of the directors with the Insurance Corporation states:

"The signing directors are desirous of protecting the interests of the remaining share holders and wish to take all steps necessary or appropriate to provide a means whereby such share holders may be paid in cash on demand for the verified balance in their share accounts."

The five of the directors who stated "that they did so because their chief concern is to make sure that the non-director share holders are paid in full and quickly and they are willing to make a personal sacrifice in order to accomplish this purpose."

The five directors signing the agreement are Thomas Lohr, Richards, J. Edwin Keech, John Park, George K. Steiner and Harry J. Barton.

On the basis of this assignment, Maryland Savings-Share Insurance Corporation has agreed to pay off the non-director's savings-share accounts in full.

Answer Alarm

Central Fire Department was called to 436 North Centre Street Saturday at 11:09 p.m. after a neighbor noticed sparks from an overheated flue.

Put Safety On Yule List, Chief Gaffney Suggests

Police Chief B. F. Gaffney yesterday suggested that Cumberland area residents put accident prevention on their Christmas shopping list.

He said every driver who is interested in safety should ask himself such questions as:

When you shopped did you remember seat belts for each member of the family?

Did you buy tire chains for bad going this winter?

Have you neglected that car tune up and safety check as you intended?

Have you "winterized" your driving habits by slowing down on slippery streets?

Chief Gaffney said he joins all members of the department in wishing all residents of the area a merry and a safe Christmas season.

The Christmas holidays, cheerful as they are, happen to be traditionally among the most dangerous seasons of the year.

Last year, Chief Gaffney said, 805 Yuletide traffic deaths were recorded to make it the most tragic holiday of the year.

With the cooperation of drivers and pedestrians in all parts of the country, this could be a blessed Christmas for everybody, he said.

Fire Damages Home In Nearby West Virginia

Oldtown Firemen Put Out Flames

The Oldtown Volunteer Fire Company late yesterday afternoon quenched a fire which threatened a one-story frame dwelling in nearby Green Spring Valley, W. Va.

Firemen said the alarm for the fire in the Dale Patterson was turned in at 4:45 p.m. by a passing motorist.

The fire, which caused considerable damage in the living room and nearby areas, was put out by 6:15 p.m.

Fighting the blaze were eight men headed by Assistant Chief Donald Steadman, with pumper and tanker trucks.

Firemen said nobody was at home when the fire, believed caused by an overheated stove, began.

Smoke was rolling out the eaves of the roof by the time firemen arrived and flames were breaking out in the living room.

Water from the booster tank of the pumper and from the tank truck was used to put out the flames.

Firemen said they were told there was no insurance on the building.

Man Is Held In Probe Of Armed Robbery

Forces Manager To Open Safe

State Police at the LaVale barracks yesterday had a man in custody in connection with the armed robbery of the Peoples Drug Store in the LaVale Plaza shopping center Friday night.

No other details were available except that the man was being questioned in connection with the armed robbery and theft at gunpoint of about $2,900 from the store.

The armed robber, described as between 20 and 22, made off with the loot after forcing the assistant manager, James Dickinson, 27, of Cresaptown, to open the safe.

Tfc. Bernard Chabot, criminal investigator, and Tfc. Thomas E. Ruppert, who were heading the investigation, said the LaVale barracks was called at about 1:15 a.m. Saturday by Mr. Dickinson.

The actual robbery took place at about 11 p.m. but Mr. Dickinson was not able to sound the alarm until he could free himself from a screened storage area which the young bandit locked while he made his getaway.

Mr. Dickinson told authorities he was checking the day's receipts after closing time and was alone in the store when he investigated a noise through the rear of the store.

There he encountered the young man who forced him at pistol point to open the store safe. The money was placed in a box by the young bandit, who then locked Mr. Dickinson in the storage area.

Haberlein Thwarts Jail Break

Sheriff Paul C. Haberlein successfully thwarted a jail break late last night as two prisoners were busy sawing through bars on a window overlooking the jail yard.

The prisoners were identified by the sheriff as two parole violators, David Louis Walters and Charles Kline, both of Paca Street. Walters, the sheriff said, was in jail on a motor law violation and Kline was held on an assault charge.

Sheriff Haberlein said the night deputy had locked up and gone home, and he, (the sheriff) was getting ready to settle down for the night. He heard a "rasping sound" and checked the inside of the building. All was secure. He then went outside and listened at the windows. He again heard the sawing noise. The sheriff immediately called the city police and two men were dispatched.

Haberlein said the police arrived in about three minutes, entered the cell block with him and began a search. They found a hack saw blade hidden in a broom, and under questioning, Walters and Kline admitted they had tried to saw out, he said. A bar on the window was about three-quarters severed.

Tawes Seeks Probe Of Land Costs

Garrett County Figures Cited

Governor J. Millard Tawes has ordered an investigation of the assessments of land purchased by the state because of his concern over the wide gap between the assessed price and the price paid by the state.

The Governor cited two cases in the purchase of land for Deep Creek Lake State Park in Garrett County.

In one case, the assessment on 2.6 acres of forest land was $52. A condemnation trial in Garrett County Circuit Court involving this land resulted in a jury award of $3,600. In the other case, the jury in Garrett County awarded $16,200 for 50 acres of forest land assessed at $400 an acre.

Assessors in each county place the assessments on property for tax purposes. In Garrett County, the ratio of assessments to market value is 50.9 per cent, according to the State Department of Assessments and Taxation.

At Governor Tawes' request, William H. Riley, chief supervisor of assessments in Maryland, is studying several cases in which there has been a wide discrepancy between assessments and purchase price paid by the state. Mr. Riley's report will be submitted to the State Board of Public Works December 31.

The report will cover the Garrett County cases and assessments on 23 pieces of property bought by the state in Montgomery, Washington, Baltimore, Harford, Allegany and St. Mary's counties.

In all of the other cases besides those from Garrett County, the properties were acquired by negotiated sale rather than through condemnation.

Cable Signal Affected By Blown Fuse

Cable television service was interrupted here last night when a fuse on the Williams Street feeder went out.

The flood of telephone calls which followed soon overtaxed the capacity of the dial center here and delayed the restoration of cable service.

The Potomac Valley Television Company cable signal went out about 7:40 and was restored about 35 minutes later.

A Potomac Edison Company spokesman said full service was restored shortly before 9 p.m. after the fuse was replaced. The cause had not been determined last night.

The delay in restoring service came when PE staffers could not immediately get the dial tone when they tried to call crews out. The hundreds of calls which jammed the facilities of the dial center here was blamed for the slight delay.

Cash Bus Fares Go To 20 Cents On January 11

The Queen City Bus Lines, Inc., will increase cash fares on local runs from 18 to 20 cents on January 11, according to Robert H. Magruder, president.

There will be no change, he said, in the cost of tokens, which will remain at three for 50 cents. The plan has been approved by the Maryland Public Service Commission, Mr. Magruder said.

Practical Nurses Plan Yule Party

The Maryland Licensed Practical Nurses District 1 will hold its annual Christmas party Tuesday at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Helen K. Crowe, 418 National Highway, LaVale.

A short business session will be held before the party, which will feature a visit from Santa Claus and the exchange of jingle gifts.

Guard Units To Form Civic Association

Group To Consider Several Projects

A committee representing former members of Company C and Company D, 8th Battalion, Maryland State Guard, which served in Cumberland during World War II, met yesterday and laid the groundwork for forming a permanent association.

Lynn Walker, acting temporary chairman, said the group decided to update rosters of the two units with current addresses and to contact by personal call and by letter each surviving former guardsman.

During the four years existence of the two units, close to 500 local and area men were members. Each company had a normal strength of 50 men and two officers, but as men volunteered or were drafted into the regular Armed Forces, they were quickly replaced by other volunteers from a waiting list.

Service Recalled

The men recalled yesterday, how they served the community during blackouts, alerts, a flood, several fires, and how they provided guards for plants and industries as well as vital installations, when war was first declared.

These men, many of them former service men too old for active duty at the beginning of the war, many of them former members of the National Guard here, which had gone into federal service, many of them mere boys of 16 and too young for active service, and many World War I veterans still able for "home guard" duty but too old for the rigors of active service, provided the city and area with an emergency force which performed many tasks.

They represented an organized and trained military unit which proved it could muster at the old National Guard Armory and move out for active duty in less than 20 minutes. They helped train citizens who participated in Civilian Defense programs. They helped train several companies of Minute Men throughout the city.

They were called upon to serve as volunteer blood donors. They had a military ceremonial unit which helped bury returning war dead and deceased veterans of other wars.

The two guard units here were summoned to assist undermanned city police and firemen on several occasions including one major disaster, an explosion on North Centre Street.

Walker recalled yesterday, that this group of men served long and arduous hours without pay often at their own expense for travel, and to augment the meagre equipment issued by the state.

They were highly trained in "guerrilla tactics" so they could serve as scouts for the Army, in the event the country was invaded. They became proficient in the use of all small arms, and learned to improvise bombs, grenades, communications systems and other things in connection with defense. They were highly trained in first aid, and personal survival.

Refresher Training

All of these men, including many with deactivated commissions who wanted to get into service, took important refresher training with these guard units. Mr. Walker said he had not checked the records closely, but more than two score of the men who served some time in the State Guard here, and then went into the Army and on into combat, earned commissions and made excellent war records. Many of them still attest to the fact that this training and service at home, aided in their own survival and helped them contribute more while in combat, he said.

Mr. Walker said the group felt yesterday that an association, 20 years later, would serve as a means of bringing together some of the city's finest patriots and best citizens. The purpose, he noted, is social, one of comradeship, with the idea of adopting some community projects which many people feel are needed.

It was pointed out that there is no ceremonial unit here now to conduct military funerals. Interest has lagged in veteran and other organizations in educational programs of citizenship, patriotism and the freedoms all Americans hold dear. There is no community-sponsored year-round activity for young people and for senior citizens who might want to make some contribution of service to the community, the group agreed. These were among the possible projects and purposes revitalizing this group of local military men into an association of citizenship and civic activity, he observed.

Rowlesburg Has Fourth Tragedy In Nine Days

Pedestrian Is Killed By Car

The little community of Rowlesburg, W. Va., had its fourth tragic death in nine days Saturday when a 78-year-old man died of injuries an hour after he was struck by a car while crossing a highway near his home.

The man was identified as Adam Henry Moats, who resided on W. Va. Route 72, one mile south of Rowlesburg. Authorities said the man had crossed the highway to dump ashes and was returning to his home when he was struck by a car operated by Willard Reckert of Crellin. Mr. Moats was taken to his home where he died about an hour later.

West Virginia State Police are investigating the accident. No charges have been preferred against Reckert pending the outcome of the investigation.

Friday afternoon William J. Calhoun, 76-year-old retired railroad employee, was struck and killed when he walked into the path of a train at the B&O Crossing.

The first of tragic deaths to strike the Rowlesburg community occurred December 6 when two teen-aged brothers, Philip and Robert Clark, were burned to death when a fire swept through their garage apartment on W. Va. 72. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Clark, who were injured in that fire, are patients in Kingwood Hospital where they are reported in good condition.

Mr. Moats was born in Aurora, a son of the late John Morgan and Annie (Shipp) Moats.

He is survived by his wife, Mandelina (Wagner) Moats; three sons, Charles of Ohio; Ollie, Masontown, and Walter, Howesville; one daughter, Miss Dora Moats, Hutton, Md.; two sisters, Mrs. Florence Poling, Rowlesburg, and Mrs. Maude McGinnis, Howesville; 15 grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

The body is at the Fike-Watson Funeral Home, Rowlesburg, where a service will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p. m. Rev. A. J. Young will officiate.

Services for Mr. Calhoun will be conducted today at 2 p. m. at Christ Methodist Church with Rev. Young officiating. Interment will be in Pleasant Valley Cemetery, near Oakland.

Put Safety On Yule List, Chief Gaffney Suggests

Police Chief B. F. Gaffney yesterday suggested that Cumberland area residents put accident prevention on their Christmas shopping list.

He said every driver who is interested in safety should ask himself such questions as:

When you shopped did you remember seat belts for each member of the family?

Did you buy tire chains for bad going this winter?

Have you neglected that car tune up and safety check as you intended?

Have you "winterized" your driving habits by slowing down on slippery streets?
